

Scene 10

( Lara crosses the river, to the mulberry brick house, but as soon she touches land onto the other side, she falls down, her mind dizzy. She then looks at herself, she's back as the dog, and she falls unconscious.)

Bear King - (Roaring) Wake up Wolf!

Pierre - (Struggling against the guards) She's a dog, my friend!

Lara - (Lifting her head up and confused) Where am I?

Bear King - (Loud and Menacingly) You are my prisoner wolf, you shall face the consequences for eating up an innocent family!

( Zady sadly waves as the guards drag, Lara, Pierre and the Old Horse down to the dungeons.)

Pierre - ( Depressed ) Now what do we do? How can we even escape?

Old Horse - (Sighing) I can't possibly break down those bars (Miserably) I'm going to be trapped forever

Lara - ( Dejectedly) This is all my fault ( Sadly Howling ) HAROOOOOOOO!

( Princess Zady pricks up her ears at the sound of Lara's beautiful howling, she quickly gathers her ball of string and sneaks down into the dungeons)

Zady - (Whispering Excitedly) Hey guys, I'm gonna get you guys out

( Zady throw her ball of string inside through the bars, Lara grabs hold of it )

Pierre and the Old Horse - ( Excitedly ) Pull Zady Pull!

( Lara manages to squeeze out and with a quick swipe of her paw, she cuts Zady's crown off her head. Zady then starts smashing the crown against the lock and it finally breaks. Pierre and the Old Horse tiptoe out and all of them board the Old Horse. The Majestic Old Horse runs freely out of the palace and off to Pierre's grandmother.)

Lara - (Breathless and Astonished) Wow Zady, that was incredible

Zady - (Flattered) Thank you Lara

( The Old Horse leaps over the river and Lara begins to change, turning back into a human, she finds herself laying on the couch in the mulberry brick house. She walks to the puppet theatre Pierre led her to, there, three figures stood , a small boy, a princess and an Old Horse, all waving at her, Lara waves back and then goes find her mother)
